Principal

Mr. Charles R. Driggins

CONGRATULATIONS!
One of the milestones on the path to maturity is graduation from high school. If you view this milestone as a beginning rather than an ending to life's learning process, you will find that you are adequately able to meet life's challenges, as you participate in your various community activities.
I wish for your good health, success, happiness and contentment as you join a society which eagerly awaits your contribution.

The Class Of 1978

Mrs. Valerie Hammond

ADVISORS

Mrs. Margaret Robinson

Last Will And Testament

We, the 1978 graduating class of Malcolm X Shabazz High School, being of a selfish and immature mind and divided body, do declare this to be out last will and testament.

To our president, Joyce Best, we leave leadership tips from former President Nixon. To our vice-president, Lonnie Brewster, we leave Troy Odom or is it Charlie? To our recording secretary, Adrienne Rouse, we leave a muzzle for her mouth, size extra large. To our corresponding secretary, Cee Cee Alford, we say, "When you have spots, SHOUT them out!" To our financial secretary, Theresa Adams, we leave a brother that can keep her interest for more than a week and tips on how to talk to people. To our treasurer, Kim Tonsul, we leave a brother who plays all sports so she won't have to change.

To Kyle Patterson we leave an SAT score of 1600. To Nancy Powell we leave a book on how to act like a lady. To Linda Britt we leave a starring role in The Wiz. To Mike Kelly we leave a bottle of Wisk for the ring around his nose. To Pat Bennett we leave Miss Sweetheart of 1977-1978. "Did you really lose?" To Michael Curl we leave a starring role in Saturday Night Fever. To Kathy Mitchell we ask, "Do blondes really have more fun?" To Brenda Page we leave a gift certificate to Mirror Image. To James Bailey we leave a 50 foot woman to look at eye to eye. To Saladin Allah and Lorraine Moore we leave a free dinner at Piggy Wiggy. To Renee Turner we leave everybody's business. To Ivan (Loverboy) Smith we leave 1001 ways to talk to a woman without being afraid. To Sissy Hayward we leave a fight for the world championship with Muhammad Ali with no razors, knives, or biting of the ear allowed. To Jim Flagg we leave a starting position on the basketball team. To Sheila Calloway we leave speech lessons. To Tanya Davis we leave some weight-on pills. To Craig McClendon we leave a woman he can call his own. To Craig McCoy we leave a lifetime supply of Nu-Nile and a comb. To Renee Johnson we leave a boyfriend that someone else besides her knows. To Sharon Alston we leave the spotlight and everything she wanted to be but couldn't. To Cedric Brown we leave a cage and some sedatives to calm him down. To Madeline Rivera we leave the key to Cedric's cage. To Kevin Green and James Roberson we leave a Simplicity pattern that looks human. To Tracy Raynor we leave a brace for her back. To Reggie Brown we leave steps leading to maturity and tips on how to treat a woman. To Bridgett Ethridge we leave a hook to catch sticky Ricky. To Constance Green we leave a crown she can call her own. To Ronnie Felton we ask, "Are you really eighteen?" To Carmen Mason we leave the Renee Turner look alike contest. To Mike Booker we leave a coin to decide between Sharon and Nancy. To GiGi Newsome we leave the starring role in One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. To Tonya Gibbons, Debra Wilkerson, and Michelle Brandon we leave a dress and stockings and the Debutante Ball. To Brenda Glenn we leave a love potion. To Ricky Rivera we leave a female to practice on. To Kitty Hunter we leave her own lunch room. To Partecia McNealy we leave freedom of choice: Keith or Abdul. To Rosemary Cousar we leave a pair of sheer stockings. To Doreen Best we leave some cement glue to hold Kevin Green. To Sharon Cheatham we leave a 16 by 20 portrait of Paul Askew. To Eunice Cook we leave an outfit that matches. To Mrs. Lakes we leave a Geometry class that won't give up. To Mrs. Cucolo we leave this quote: "If with your class you don't succeed, try! try! try!." To Mrs. Pollak we leave a way to talk to people. To Mr. Wharton we leave a class without Anthony, Roxanne, Jacke, Adrienne, Sharon, and Theresa, commenting. To Mr. Cook we say "Action speaks louder than words." To Mr. Oxford we leave a book of jokes that are funny. To Mrs. Johnson we leave a test that someone besides her can pass. To Mrs. Murphy we leave someone to help her get things done. To Mr. Reynolds we say "Teams should sleep at home. Hotels are for lovers." To Princess Towe we leave a first name that fits, like Mary or Jane. To our advisors we leave THANKS. To the Class of 1979 we leave success.
